Macedonia

BRONZE - CORRECT

Greece, Macedonia

Pale colour, slight green hue. Not a lot of colour intensity here. Good purity on the nose. Modern vinification. Very grapy style. I would talk about traditional variety in the direction of Muscat, Malavasia. With hints of freshly crushed grapes, with a lot of flowers, with lemon, lime, barely ripe green apple and pear. Light palate, light weight with a good purity of fruit. It is crisp and zesty on the palate, quite salivating with pure youthful fruit. Nicely restrained. With good sensation of those fresh grapes. Quite persistent on the palate. A wine which I think is very attractive now in that grapy Mediterranean, fresh style and should be drunk quite early on.
